- The newest off-road adventure tire, the Mitas ENDURO TRAIL-XT+ available this fall
- Designed for 80% off-road & 20% on-road performance and available in two different versions
- M+S rating, the ENDURO TRAIL-XT+ tire is made to handle the most challenging terrain, especially muddy or tough gravel trails

Mitas announces the latest addition to its already extensive adventure tire portfolio: the Mitas ENDURO TRAIL-XT+. It is the next generation in a long line of Mitas off-road adventure tires conceived for riders who want to push the limits in off-road adventuring, with a tire they can trust to take them all the way.

Gustavo Pinto Teixeira, Vice President of Two Wheels and Specialty Tires at Yokohama TWS, says about the latest Mitas adventure tire: “The ENDURO TRAIL-XT+ is the most aggressive tire in our adventure range, designed to meet the toughest trail conditions head-on. We want Mitas to be the tire of choice for off-road adventure lovers looking to ride harder and deeper into unknown territories with confidence.”

Thanks to its extremely aggressive pattern and unique compound formulation, the ENDURO TRAIL-XT+ tire delivers impressive performance on muddy trails and rough, gravel roads while handling high-speed motorways with ease. Classified as M+S, the ENDURO TRAIL-XT+ tire is designed to guarantee riders off-road performance, durability with good handling and stability on road transfer sections.

This newest Mitas tire will soon be released in two different versions: Standard – for the best all-around performance in any weather and the Dakar – with its Ultra Heavy-Duty compound for maximum durability and a reinforced carcass making it virtually puncture proof.
